ATTOView™ Embedded Interface

Prosumer & Professional Monitoring & Management

Media and Entertainment

For over 15 years ATTO host adapters have been the connectivity of choice for Video Production applications in workstations and servers. ATTO shared Storage Controllers have boasted leading performance and stream counts in video applications for almost 7 years. With the introduction of Thunderbolt, prosumer and professional content creation applications will benefit from vendors who implement solutions containing ATTO Thunderbolt-enabled storage controllers with the ATTOView Interface.

ATTOView™ Management Software

The ATTOView graphical user interface provides easy to use monitoring and management for Thunderbolt-enabled storage controller products. ATTOView helps users get a clear picture of their storage with minimal effort. ATTOView provides basic status and management tools for prosumer and professional class storage products Powered by ATTO.

- In-band access, no separate software needed
- Controller and enclosure temperature monitoring
- Drive and enclosure status reporting
- RAID level management
- Firmware updating
- OEM Customizable look and feel

ATTO Supported Products

ATTO Thunderbolt Storage Controllers exclusively support the ATTOView user interface. These embedded RAID Controllers create 2-8 drive RAID Arrays and can support up to 24 drives when used with SAS expanders or port multipliers.

Thunderbolt Storage Controllers	Supported Model(s)
Thunderbolt to SATA	3804
Thunderbolt to SAS/SATA	3808

ATTOView™ Graphical User Interface

Prosumer and Professional User Focus

Many storage products in this category lack basic management and reporting. ATTO has developed the ATTOView interface to give users a clean, simple and easy to use interface that won't get in the way of accessing their storage while providing the functionality needed to monitor and manage their Thunderbolt-attached storage devices.
